should be chosen by a district convention chosen for that purpose or by a direct, vote of the people, as can now very well be done under the new primary election law. The commutee should not, and we believe will not, stop thaif way in securing the Congressional districts the right to cleet their own delegates to the National Convention. This is not done by conferring it most the district delegates to the State Convention, who are chosen usually with but partial reference to their preferences on the Presidential question, and often, therefore, do not reflect the true sense of their constituents in that respect.

A HOPEFUL OUTLOOK IN ONIO.

Prom The Chacins at Commercial Gazelte (Exp.).

The Republican situation has improved since Congress met. The difficulty in doing anything with the Democratic party in works of reform, is manifest whenever one approaches the question of ways and means of reformation. The highest hope and chief expectation of the Democratic have been that the dissensions among the Republicans in Oho would place the State in the Domocratic lines, but the Governor's measure and the Democratic lines, but the Governor's measure and the proceedings of the Legislature thus far have not had the tendency to encourage them. It is advertised with valence of encourage them. It is advertised with valence of the constitution, and that the only national success they could have would mean the carrying of the departments by storm, to inaugurate a spoils policy that would prove coatlier than war to the country. This, of course, makes a Democratic victory improbable. It is our duty to make it impossible. Certainly in Ohio at this moment the tendency is to Republican unity and Democratic disorder.

General Grant has his Joke.

General Grant came to the Post Office Department Friday, about 1 o'clock, to cail upon Pestmaster-General flowe. Mr. Bassett, the chief clerk, teld master-General flowe. Mr. Bassett is the form the form of the session for the form of the session for the form of the session in the said, with a being made to the length of the session, he said, with a being made to the time passing so rapidly. I know that is the way it used to be sometimes, and after one of these sessions i would pick up The Evening Star and read that important matters had been discussed during the meeting. But it was just as well." The General seemed to be in a joking mood, and, in reasonse to a remark about its being picasant to visit Washington, he said; "Yes, I always like to come here; it gives me an opportunity, you know, to make surge-tions in regard to filling the places in all the departments. I could fill them all, you know."

CHANGES IN NEW-YORK OFFICES.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT IS LIKELY TO DO. MANY CANDIDATES FOR EACH PLACE-TALK OF ADMINISTRATION REPUBLICANS.

New-York politicians are awaiting with eager auxiety the changes which the President is expected to make in the Federal offices in this city. Immediately following the last election some of the more conservative members of the Republican "machine" organization in the city expressed their conviction that no changes would be made. These men are apparently convinced now that they were mistaken. One of them said yesterday: "I went to see the President last spring and again in the summer about a change in the office of Ap-praiser. I was not anxious to see Mr. Howard removed, but I understood that there was to be a change, and as I had a candidate I went to see about it. The President intimated that there would be a change, but as he delayed the matter so long and never said anything definite to me in regard to it, I concluded that no change would be made. I think Secretary Folger, who was at that time urging Mr. Howard's removal, came to the same conclusion, or he would not have asked Mr. Howard to appoint Dr. Gregg, who was the Secretary's old friend, if not a relative, to office. But you see the President finally made up his mind and removed the Appraiser. He intended to it all along, I have no doubt, but he is naturally very slow. It will be just the same way in regard to the other changes that are talked about. I think they will all be made, but the President will be slow about it." "Did he nominate your candidate for Appraiser ?"

"No. I was opposed to the nomination of Mr. Ketchum. He has been holding office ever since Grant became President, and I think it is time for a change. He was, I think, first Register in Bankruptcy, then Assessor of Internal Revenue, and afterward Collector, and then was made General Appraiser, and he still has his law office, where he spends most of his time. His nomination causes less comment than if somebody else had been chosen, which, I suppose, is the reason why it was made. In my opinion, the President will make other changes in the same way, appointing men like M. W. Cooper-who is the Presiutimate frieud and associate, and who will be as serviceable as any politician without drawing upon the President the criticism that better-known men would attract."

An Administration Republican, who had just re turned from Washington, said that Mr. Cooper's mame for Collector was sure to be sent in at an early day in place of Collector Robertson. He asserted that Mr. Cooper, who had accompanied the President on many fishing excursions and like trips in be made Collector, and that this was the reason why he retired from business. The appointment would be entirely satisfactory to the organization in this city and to the State Comganization in this city and to the State Com-mittee. Mr. Cooper's petition, he added, hore the names of many prominent merchan s, as well as that of the chairman of the State Committee, John F. Smyth, and also those of ex-Senaters Conkling and Thomas C. Platt. When asked whether Collector Robertson was likely to be named for any other office, this Republican replied that it was under-stood in Washington that Mr. Robertson would be nominated to success General Merritias Consul-General at London. He did not think, how-ever, that Mr. Robertson would accept that or any would be nominated to success General Merrit as Consul-General at London. He did not think, however, that Mr. Kobertson would accept that or any other office from President Arthur.

Some of the merchants who signed Mr. Cooper's petition are inclined to withdraw their names, on the ground that their signatures were obtained on the representation that Collector Robertson's resignation was in the hands of the President, which has preved to be unitrue.

Michael J. Dady, Jacob Worth and other Administration Republicans of Brooklyn, have been unging the President to appoint one of their number to succeed General Graham as Surveyor of the Port. They claim that Brooklyn is entitled to one of "the places." John R. Lydecker, who holds the easy office of City Assessor at $3,000 a year, and is also receiver of the Brooklyn Elevated Railway and of some other corporations, is said to be "booked" for either Surveyor or Naval Officer. All of Mr. Lydecker's present offices were secured for him by President Arthur's influence, and some of the other Administration Republicans think that Lydecker has been well-enough taken care of already. Ex-Senator Stratan is mentioned as the probable successor of General Appraiser Ketchum. The $3,000 place in the Appraiser's office made vareant by the death of Mr. Baush is a law sought after at Washington. E. S. Fowler, the present "law clerk" to General Appraiser Ketchum, is mentioned for the place, but "Mike" Cregan and others have ter at Washington, E. S. Fowler, the present "law clerk" to General Appraiser Ketchum, is mentioned for the place, but "Mike" Cregan and others have a candidate whose claims they are pushing at Washington. Ex Senator Eldmann is a candidate for Internal Revenue Collector, and so is "Bob" McCord. The prevailing opinion among Administration Reputalicans in the city is that Elhu Root will be appointed to succeed District-Attorney Woodford, if he will accept the place, though it is said that Senator Sewell, of New-Jersey, is arging the appointment of his brother in case a change is made.

the appointment of his brother in case a change in made.

"The fact is," said one of the district leaders yesterday, "the President has made up his mind that while he cannot succeed himself as President, he can name the next Republican candidate. To do this he wants men in the offices in this city who will be in sympathy with him. He will be blamed just as much if he makes one change as if he removes all the leading officials, and the thing will all blow over before the next election anyway. It may be that he won't appoint any of our fellows, but there will be changes all the same."

THE ELEVENTH STREET CEMETERY.

A meeting of the lot owners in the old Roman Catholic Cemetery in Eleventh-st., was held last hight in a room in Cooper Institute, the object being to take the necessary measures to prevent the removal of the bodies to another burial ground. Dr. James A. Dugan presided. Arthur J. Delancy, counsel for the sociation, said he had continued to collect evidence to be used in court when the rights of the lot owners were to be judicially passed upon. It was a duty to God to restrain spiritual advisers when at fault, that they might not bring the faith into discredit. In sorrow he might not bring the faith into discredit. In sorrow he referred to Arobbishop Purcell, and continuing said:
"We have had among priests of this diocese transactions that would have snocked the moral sense of the community had we not in our blind infatuation beaten off all attempts at investigation. If Christ came upon carth, He would thrast them from the Cathedral as he did the money changers from the Temple."

George J. O'Reilly was appointed temporary treasurer and a collection to defray the expenses of a mass-meeting of lot owners to be held in the main hall was taken up.

NOT AN ENOCH ARDEN.

Some six years ago August Witherstich, of Brooklyn, deserted a woman by whom he had five children, but to whom he had not been married. His brother Louis afterward married the woman, and they have three children. A few days ago August returned and threatened to take Louis's life, and yesterday, while in a state of intextection, he was arrested. Louis will pros-scute him for threatening to kill.

AFFAIRS AT ALBANY.

MORE MONEY FOR THE NEW CAPITOL. AN ASSEMBLY BILL IN BEGARD TO COMMISSION-ERS IN LUNACY.

ALBANY, Jan. 17 .- The Assembly passed today the Senste bill appropriating $250,000 to carry on work on the new Capitel. Erastus Brooks, the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, said with a doleful look that it seemed impossible to limit the expense of constructing the new Capitol. Still it was statesmanship push on the work in the hope that day it might be fluished. He would be frank with his fellow-members of the Assembly and warn them that in a few weeks an additional million would be required. Mr. Spinola, who always contrives to say something maladroit, declared that the extravagance in the present management of the Capitol construction was caused by Republican officials. It would be well to deprive them of office and put Democrats in their places, as the Democratic party would be held responsi ble for the construction of the Capitol. Mr. Van Allen swiftly replied for the Republicans that the Democrats of New-York City after promising to build a Court House for $5.000,000, had contrived to spend $14,000,000. At this thrust Mesers Spinola and "Tim" Campbell, Tweed's companions in the Court House days, cried out. Mt. Campbell said that part of the Court House Commissioners were Republicans. Mr. Van Allea replied that Mr. Campbell seemed to have an "classic imagination." The bill was then passed.

Senator Daly introduced a bill to day authorizing the Mayor of New-York to appeln three commissioners in Mayor of New-York to appeln three commissioners in the Commissioners to the commissioners to commit a person to a lunatic asylum. Throughout the State the ludges of the Sapreme Court are to have the same power, appointing three commissioners to each judicial district.

The Assembly placed on the table to day a resolution limiting theelfto investigation by its regular commistees only. Mesers. Farar and Hunt, of the Republican members, with Mesers. Keyes and Church, of the Democratic members, stoutly resisted the passage of the resolution. New-York City after promising to build a Court

SHANAHAN'S NOMINATION CONFIRMED. A UNANIMOUS VOTE IN THE SENATE-SKETCH OF HIS CAREER.

FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE, ALBANY, Jan. 17 .- James Shanahan was as Superintendent of Public day, by the vote of every confirmed Works to-day. It is rarely that any person nominated for one of the great offices of the State by a Governor has bestowed upon him such a compliment as a unaninous confirmation. Silas B. Dutcher, the Republican Superintendent of Public Works, who will be displaced by Mr. Shanshan's confirmation, said a few days ago:
"If Governor Cleveland had searched the State all over he couldn't have found a man better fitted for Superintendent than Shananan." Apparently the Senators have the same high opinion of Mr. Shanahan as Mr. Dutcher, who for a year saw the work of Mr. Shanahan as Superintendent of the Eastern Division of the Eric Canal and is therefore able to judge of the ability with which it was done. Nothing but favorable reports, however, have reached the Senators regarding Mr. Shanahan. A rumor that his accounts as Deputy Superintend-ent of the Canals were incorrect, was soon shown to be without the slightest foundation It is as a trained and capable Superintendent of Public Works that Mr. Shanahan will take charge of the canals Works that Mr. Shanahan will take charge of the State.

Mr. Shanahan is about flity-five years old, and first came into public itse in 1870, when he was chosen Assemblyman from Montgomery County. He served on the Canal Committee and was appointed Assistant Superintendent of Public Works. Under the administration of S. W. Clark as Superintendent of Public Works Mr. Shanahan was deputy. He has been engaged for a number of years in the construction of railroads.

NOMINATIONS REPORTED FAVORABLY.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The Senate Committee on Railroads met this afternoon to consider the nomination of John O'Donnell, William T. Rogers and John D. Kernan for Railroad Commissioners. All the members were present, Senators A. Lansing, Baldwin, Pitts, Lynde, Mackin, Boyd and Grady. All except Senator Lausing voted to report favorably every one of the nominations. Senator Lausing's adverse vote is believed to be directed solely against Mr. O'Donnell. There is considerable opposition to O'Donnell's confirmation among Senators who are not members of the Railroad Committee. Some of the members of that committee even are secretly opposed to his confirmation, yet they did not have the courage to vote against him. Fear of the Auti-Monopolists led by F. B. Thurber is acknowledged by these Senators to be the cause of their supporting O'Donnell, while being at heart opposed to him. They declare that they believe the Anti-Monopolists hold the balance of power in the State, and if they should vote against O'Donnell, the Anti-Monopoly Railroad Commissioner, that their party would suffer. There is thus great desire by both Dem crats and Republicans to defeat O'Donnell, but mawili-ingness to assume party responsibility by opposing him. The Anti-Monopolisis are shrewdiy taking advantage of the terror that they have inspired. An influential committee of theirs overed about the room of the Railway Committee to day while it was in bession. Among the members of this committee were ex-Assemblyman Emerson E. Davis, he president of the State Anti-Monopoly League Thomsas Kinsella, General Henry E. Tremata, R. B. Killmer, secretary of the Kings County Autl-Monop League, and E. A. Anderson, Master of the State Grange. General "Sam" Cary, of Ohio, who is constantly moving about the State making anti-monopoly speeches under Mr. Thurber's direction, was also

John O'Donnell, whose fate was under discussion by the committee, sat in the Sanate chamber anxiousthe committee, sat in the Sanate chamber anxiously awaiting news of its action. After the committee had made its decision a dispatch was received from Utica, from one of Mr. O'Donnell's opponents, requesting an opportunity to be heard in opposition to his confirmation. The committee may therefore defer making its report. Mr. O'Donnell's friends will, however, attempt to get the report before the Senate tomorrow, and have a vote taken in regard to his confirmation. They believe that a majority of the Senators will vote in favor of his confirmation. If action in the Senate in regard to it is delayed till next week, however, they fear that he may be defeated.

WORK OF THE STATE SENATE.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND DISCURSSED,

FROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.] Albany, Jan. 17 .- Senator Frederick Lansing's bill to create a State Park in the Adirondack Wil derness with the acres of land belonging to the State situated in that region, was debated in an animated way by the Senate. The bill declares that no sales here after shall be made of lands belonging to the State in the counties of Clinton, Essex. Franklin, Fulton, Hamilton, Herkimer, Lewis, Saratoga, St. Lawrence and Warren. Within these counties the Wilderness situated. The proportion of acres of land owned by the Montgomery ..... 16 Senator Lansing stated to the Senate that these lands were frequently bought by speculators at a low price merely for the timber upon them. After the timber had been cleared off, as the land was worthless, no taxes were paid upon it and it reverted to the State. In this yast forests had been destroyed, and the destruction of the timber was increasing. Already the Hudson River showed by its lessening volume the effect of the cutting down of the Adirondack trees. He believed that it was the duty of the State to protect the trees by passing the bill. Ther was not a manufacturer in the valley of the Undson who would not thank the Legislature for such action. Senstors Lynde and Bowen, who represent counties in the northern part of the State, oppose the bill, arguing that most of the State's lands were already deprived of their trees. Senater Bowen desired that the counties of Clinton, Essex, Franklin, St. Lawrence and Lewis should be exempted from the provisions of the bill. The amendment was rejected and the bill was ordered to a third reading. It is the design of the men who drew up the bill to have the State buy some of the lower-priced lands in the Adirondack region and unite into one park the many fragments of the State's property

Senator Grady introduced a bill to-day which will be read with great interest by the managers of the State banks in Wall Street. As is well-known, there has been a movement among the National banks in New-York lately in favor of changing from the National to the State system of banks. This movement has been caused by Sanator Beck's bill in regard to the certification of checks. Senator Grady's bill is apparently intended to prevent any further descritions from the National to the State sanking system. It applies the National law to the Glate sanking institutions. As it is of general interest to bankers, it is given in full:

"SECTION I—Any officer, eleck or agent of any banking association who shall verify, accept, guarantee or pay any check or draft cefors the amount thereof has been regularly entered to the credit of the dealer upon the books of the banking association, or who shall resort to any device or receive any temporary obligation, direct or collateral, in order to evade the provision of the law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeaner, and as shall on conviction thereof be fined not more than $5,000, and be imprisoned not more than five years. And it shall be the duty of the Bank Superintendent to appoint Senator Grady introduced a bill to-day which will be # a receiver for such banking association immediately upon his being convinced that such offence has been committed, and institute legal proceedings against such officer, clerk or agent, and if convicted, the charter of such banking association shall be forfeited. # STEALING FROM A FERRY COMPANY.

HOW A FERRY-MASTER MADE AWAY WITH $40,000-WHAT LED TO HIS ARREST.

Inspector Thorne, who was in charge of Police Headquarters last night, was informed early in the evening, by Captain Copeland, of the Delancy-st. police that John H. Moore, an employe of the New-York and Brooklyn Ferry Company, had been put under arrest on the charge of embezzing sums of $40,000. Superintendent Walling and Inspector Byrnes were informed by the company's officials some time ago that money was being systematically stolen from them, and they were unable to find out who was the thief. Suspicion attached to Moore, but no positive clew was obtained on which to cause his arrest until yesterday, when conclusive evidence of his guilt was obtained. Moore is a middle-aged man and is unmarried. He first entered the employment of the company in 1865, when he was made a gateman at Grand-st. ferry at a salary of $50 a month. This position he held for eight years, when he was promoted to be a ferry-master at the same place, and his salary raised to $85 a month. In this capacity he remained with the company.

Detectives Pearce and McCauley, of the Thir-Detectives Pearce and McCauley, of the Thirteenth Precinct, were detailed, together with Captain Copeland, to work up the case. When the detectives began their investigations the suspicions about Moore were first looked up, and they speedily became convinced that he was the thef. Moore lived in good style at his home, No. 143 Fifthest. Brooklyn, E. D. When he first entered the service of the company he was known to be a very poor man with nothing but his salary to depend upon, and now he is said to possess a fortune variously estimated at from $40,000 to $60,000. He owned three fine houses in Brooklyn, said to be worth $20,000, and has a deposit in the Citizens' Bank of this city of $16,000. Moore's rapid accumulation of wealth proved the clew which led to his discovery. A strict watch was set upon him, and for several days he was seen to appropriate money that was taken in at the gate. The detectives were then instructed to arrest him, and yesterday evening he was taken into custody by McCauley and Pearce justas he was leaving his were then instructed to arrest him, and yesterday evening he was taken into custody by McCauley and Pearce just as he was leaving his post of duty at the ferry. He expressed great astonishment and when told of the charge on which he was arrested he stoutly demied that he was guilty. He was taken to the Delancey-st station, notwithstanding his protests, and looked up.

THE BROOKLYN NAVY YARD.

Commodore Upshur, of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, was asked last night by a TRIBUNE reporter in regard to the rumors that the yard was to be closed. " There is not the slightest probability that such a thing will be done," said the Commodore. " This yard could not be closed without great expense. It is the principal yard on the northeast coast, and there is every reason why it should be kept open."
